[XXth Year.] THURSDAY, July 12, 1764. [No. 1001.]

TALBOT County, July 1ſt, 1764.

Mr. GREEN,

AS you were pleaſed, in your Paper of the 28th of June, to take ſome Notice of a malignant Fever, that had carried off a great many Negroes in Talbot County, and as that Diſorder, tho' now ſubſided here, is frequently incident to all theſe Colonies, by Means of Servants or Slaves bought from on board of crowded Ships, perhaps the following Diſſertation, on that dangerous and often fatal Malady, may not be unacceptable to many of your Readers.

It's Symptoms are generally, a Chillineſs at firſt, which in ſome, attended with a Senſe of Heat and Cold by Turns, continues for Ten or Twelve Hours; a Senſe of Tightneſs round, rather than acute Pain in, the Head; Sickneſs at Stomach, and Nauſea; a Pain in the Back and Loins, and ſometimes wandering Pains all over the muſcular Fleſh. The Pulſe in this Period (which continues generally the firſt 24 Hours) I cannot preciſely deſcribe, having never ſeen any of them ſo early in the Diſtemper, but am told, that it is very irregular, ſometimes ſlow and full, at other Times quick and low. During the whole Courſe of the Diſorder, the Drought is ſeldom conſiderable. The ſecond and following Days the Strength and Spirits ſink, even when no Evacuation has been uſed, the Pulſe becomes quick, ſmall and thready, the Skin feels rather cooler than in Health, but the Patient complains of vaſt internal Heat, Languor, Weight and Oppreſſion, upon the Præcordia; the Countenance appears ſtupid and dejected, the Eyes heavy and languid, and they complain of a Kind of Confuſion in the Head (as they expreſs it) which, tho' it deprives them of Reſt and Sleep, yet ſeldom riſes to a Delirium.

Sometimes for an Hour or Two, they ſeem perfectly eaſy, their Pulſe, Reſpiration and Heat, regular and moderate, and if aſk'd, they will tell you they are much better; but in a little Time, the Scene is altered without any manifeſt Cauſe, all the Symptoms recurring with double Violence, ſuch as vaſt Anxiety and Oppreſſion about the Præcordia, intenſe Heat in the Bowels, a deep and labouring Reſpiration, interrupted with frequent Sighs; but theſe Exacerbations are moſt common towards Night, tho' not ſo regularly and conſtantly ſo, as to conſtitute the Fever a regular Remittent. A Yellowneſs of the Eyes and Tongue coming on about the Fifth or Sixth Day, has always been a fatal Symptom in thoſe I have ſeen, and they ſeldom reach the Ninth Day alive: In general, theſe that outlive the Ninth Day, get over it; tho' I have heard of ſome who have lingered a Fortnight or more, and died at laſt, but that was where no Aſſiſtance from Medicine was uſed. The Body is generally coſtive for the firſt Five or Six Days, unleſs any opening Medicine has been given, on the Uſe of which, or a looſe Stool from a Clyſter, the Patient generally finds great Relief. I have not ſeen any who have had a Subſultus Tendinum, or much Tremor in the Hands, but ſeveral, whoſe Tongues have trembled much upon being put out to look at; nor have I obſerved any petechial Spots, but theſe are hardly viſible on Negroes, and I have never ſeen any white Perſon, who had the Diſorder in ſo violent Degree as it is common among the Negroes, nor have I attended any white Perſon that died of it, except one Woman, whoſe Condition (being then in Childbed) might prevent the Eruption of theſe Spots, and but I did not ſee the Three laſt Days of her Illneſs.

This is a pretty exact Deſcription of the Diſeaſe, taken from too many who have fallen Sacrifices to it's Malignity; and if compared with Dr. Pringle's Account of the Hoſpital Fever, or Jail Diſeaſe, or with Huxham's, of the malignant putrid Fever, it will be apparent, that they are nearly related, if not the ſame Diſeaſe, allowing for the quicker Progreſs of the Diſtemper here, from the Heat of the Climate.

It is certainly more Infectious, and more Fatal among Negroes, than among white People, for which ſeveral Reaſons may be aſſigned; as firſt, the naſty, cloſe, crowded Places they generally lie in; next, their natural Temperament, and Habit of Body, more ſubject to putrid Diſeaſes than the Whites, which is obvious from the very rank noiſome Smell of their Bodies, ſhewing their Humours to be nearer a State of Putrefaction, than thoſe of the white People; and laſtly, their groſs putreſcent Diet of Pork and Hog's Fat, uncorrected with Vinegar or ſpirituous Liquors. This Diſorder (as I have been told) has ſeveral Times appeared in this Province, and at it's firſt breaking out, made terrible Havock among the Negroes, ſometimes paſſing under the Name of the Yellow Fever, and at other Times, under the more general Denomination of a malignant One. Medical Writers do not ſeem to be agreed on their Notions of Malignity; ſome of them, particularly Dr. Sydenham, aſcribe it to hot and ſpirituous Particles in the Blood and Humours; others (eſpecially among the Ancients) to ſomething inexplicable, et quaſi * TO THEION; but the Moderns, eſpecially Pringle, ſeem to think it nothing elſe than an incipient Putrefaction in the Humours of the Body: And when we reflect that malignant Fevers, ſuch as the Jail Diſeaſe, or Hoſpital Fever, and even the Plague itſelf, not only may, but often do in Fact, ariſe from the putrid Effluvia of Filth and Naſtineſs in Jails, or crowded Ships, of Sores, Mortifications, and other noiſome Diſtempers in Hoſpitals, or the Corruption of dead Bodies in hot Climates, we cannot help concluding, that moſt (if not all) Kinds of Malignity, are owing to putrid Particles entering our Bodies, either with the Breath, or even thro' the Pores of the Skin, and mixing with our Blood and Humours, which they endeavour to aſſimulate to their own Nature, by tainting them with a putreſcent Quality. And this Conjecture ſeems to be confirmed, from the moſt approved and ſucceſsful Methods of Cure uſed in malignant Fevers, and the various Symptoms attending them, which are all eaſily and naturally deducible from Putrefaction. But as a Diſquiſition into the Nature of malignant Symptoms, and their Connection with the general Cauſe here aſſign'd, would lengthen out this Eſſay, perhaps already too tedious for a Publication in a News-Paper, I ſhall confine myſelf now to the Method of Treatment, moſt agreeable to Reaſon, and the moſt ſalutary from Experience: And this conſiſts of Two Parts, the Prophylactick and Therapeutick, or Preſervative and Curative.

For the firſt, when any Slave is taken with the Symptoms of this Fever, let all the reſt be kept as much as poſſible from him; let them be removed to ſome other Houſe; if in the Summer, a Barn will do; the more airy and cool the better; let them have plenty of rough hard Cyder to drink at their Meals, and every Morning give each of them a Glaſs of Spirits well impregnated with Bitters, ſuch as the Black Snake Root, Camomile Flowers, Gentian, Wormwood, and Rue, but above all the Peruvian Bark, univerſally allowed to be the ſtrongeſt Antiſeptick in all the Materia Medica. Let the Patient's Room be kept clean and well aired, and frequently ſtrewed with freſh gathered Aromatick Herbs, and let Tar be kept ſmoaking at the Door, and where Cyder is not to be had, let the Negroes drink tart Water for their common Drink. By this Method the Progreſs of the Diſorder was ſtopt in ſome Families where it had made it's Appearance, and even the Attendants on the Sick were preſerved from Infection.

In the Cure of the Sick, begin with a gentle Vomit, adminiſtered as ſoon as the Perſon complains, and if that does not work downwards as well as upwards, let the Bowels be emptied, and kept open, either with repeated emollient Clyſters, or gentle Cathartick, ſuch as the Cream of Tartar and Manna, Glauber Salts, or Senna and Rhubarb, to be repeated occaſionally thro' the whole Courſe of the Diſorder; for a regular Criſis is not to be expected, and if any ſuch does ſupervene it is generally by Stool. Let the Patient drink plenty of Sage or Balm Tea, with the Spiritus Nitri dulcis, or Tamarind Water. A diaphoretick Mixture, made with a Drachm of the pulvis Contrayervæ Comp: and an Ounce of the Spiritus Mindereri, to Five Ounces of Sage Tea, to be taken by Two Spoonfuls at a Doſe, during the Exacerbations of the Fever, and indeed every Two Hours throughout the Night, and ſome Preparation of the Bark in the Forenoons. I at firſt tried the Decoctum Peruvianum of Dr. Pringle, but thought it leſs effectual, and therefore changed it for the Powder of Bark alone, of which I have ordered Half a Drachm Three or Four Times in the Forenoon. And in this Fever, where there is a quick low Pulſe, no Symptom of Inflammation, and little Drought or external Heat, I have neither ſeen, nor can apprehend, any Danger from the free Uſe of that noble Specifick; but am well convinced, from repeated Experience of it's ſtrong antiſeptick Qualities, that it is both the beſt Preſervative, and the moſt certain Cure, in all putrid Diſeaſes whatever, and therefore ſhould not heſitate a Moment to give it the Preference to all other Medicines, for both Intentions, even in the Plague itſelf.

The Evacuant that I have moſt commonly uſed in the Beginning of theſe Fevers, has been the James's Powders, which I think preferable to any other that I know, becauſe it operates mildly the firſt Doſe or Two both upwards and downwards, and with the Aſſiſtance of the above diaphoretick Mixture, given about Three Hours after the Powder, generally diſpoſes the Patient to a moderate Sweat, which, if equal, univerſal, and attended with a moiſt Tongue, is always ſerviceable; but after the ſecond Doſe, it ſeldom purges, except the Doſe be much increaſed, which I have never ventured to do, to above Two Thirds of a Paper, but have, after the ſecond, or at moſt the Third Doſe of the Powder, kept the Body open with Clyſters, or the milder Catharticks as above. The James's Powders, and other Evacuants, I have generally given in the Evening, and the Bark in the Forenoons. As the Patient's Strength and Spirits are generally much ſunk, I have allowed them a little Wine in their Gruel, and Wine Whey, when I wanted to promote a Sweat. Bleeding I have never uſed, nor think it needful, unleſs with a ſtrong full Pulſe, the Symptoms run very high at firſt, which is ſeldom the Caſe even in robuſt Habits. Bliſters in the Beginning are pernicious, and in the State uſeleſs; but towards the Decline, when the Solids grow torpid, the Circulation languid, and the Spirits effete, they may be uſed with Advantage.

This is what has occured to me in the Treatment of this Diſorder, and that this Publication may be of ſome Service to thoſe People, who are ſo unhappy as to be ſeized with the malignant Fever at Places diſtant from any Phyſician, is the ſole Aim, and Wiſh of

Your humble Servant,

BENEVOLUS.

LONDON, April 20.

THE Number of Bills which received the Royal Aſſent Yeſterday, was Sixty-nine. Both Houſes were prorogued to the 21ſt of June, after a Speech from his Majeſty, conceived in theſe moſt gracious Terms.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I CANNOT put an End to this Seſſion of Parliament, without returning you my Thanks for the prudent and ſalutary Meaſures which you have taken to extend the Commerce, and to ſecure the Happineſs, of my Kingdoms.

The Aſſurances which I have received of the pacific Diſpoſition of the ſeveral Powers with whom we were lately at War, and of their Reſolution to adhere inviolably to the Terms of the late Treaty, promiſe the Continuance of Peace abroad; and the firm and temperate Exertion of your Authority, joined to the conſtitutional and public-ſpirited Conduct which you have manifeſted on every Occaſion during the preſent Seſſion, will, I truſt, eſtabliſh at Home due Obedience to the Laws, Reverence to the Legiſlature, and Domeſtic Union.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I thank you for the Supplies which you have ſo chearfully and unanimouſly granted. The ſingle

Provided you have made for the ſeveral Services recommended to you, and eſpecially for maintaining my Fleet in a reſpectable State, will, I am confident, preſerve to this Nation its proper Weight and Influence, and give Strength and Security to all my Dominions.

The wiſe Regulations which have been eſtabliſhed to augment the publick Revenues, to unite the Intereſts of the moſt diſtant Poſſeſſions of my Crown, and to encourage and ſecure their Commerce with Great-Britain, calls for my hearty Approbation.

Your regard to public Credit, in diſcharging a part of the heavy Debt contracted and unprovided for during the late War, without impoſing on this Kingdom the Burthen of any new Taxes, is particularly pleaſing to me, from the tender Concern which I feel for my People.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

It is the proper Employment of this Seaſon of Tranquility, to conſider of the moſt effectual Means for Perfecting thoſe Works of Peace, and Plans of public Utility, which have been ſo wiſely and happily begun.

I recommend theſe important Objects to your Conſideration during the Receſs. You may depend upon my conſtant Endeavours for the Succeſs of theſe good Purpoſes; as I ſhall ever deem it my trueſt Glory, to employ that Power with which the Conſtitution hath entruſted me, in promoting your real Intereſts, and laſting Happineſs.

Yeſterday Morning came Advice to the India Houſe, that the Aſhburnham, Pearce, and the Plaſſey, Ward, were arrived off the Iſle of Wight. They bring a melancholy Account of Damage done in Madraſs Road, the 21ſt of October, 1763, viz.

Ship Union, Reynolds, [illegible] aſhore, and beat to Pieces. Fazala, Hawke, [illegible] cut away their Maſts, and foundered. Snow Sea Boat, Gibſon; Ketch Trial, Gilchriſt; and Snow Speedwell, Moore, run [illegible], and beat to Pieces. Snow Calcutta, Watſon, foundered. Snow Succeſs, Elliot, run aſhore. Snow London, Black, do. nothing ſaved. Snow Neptune, Tracey, ran foul of the Calcutta, and both ſunk together. Snow Nelly, Gibſon, drove aſhore, and beat to Pieces. The Hope,—, foundered.

The Norfolk, Admiral Corniſh; the America, Capt. Pitchford; and the Weymouth, Capt. Collins, put to Sea the 20th, and returned the 24th diſmaſted, with much Water in their Holds. The Ship Royal Charlotte, Capt. Tingle, of 400 Tons, a Country Ship, put to Sea with the Men of War, and returned with the Loſs of her Fore and Main Maſts. Admiral Corniſh, Capt. Pitchford, and Capt. Collins, are aſhore; alſo all the Country Captains, except Captain Tracey; and upwards of 30 Paddy Boats foundered or drove aſhore. We likewiſe learn, that the Nabob Caſſim Ali Cawn has put to Death all the Priſoners he took at Patna, to the amount of about 50 or 60. Mr. Pigot, late Governor of Madraſs, is arrived in the Plaſſey, Capt. Ward; and it is ſaid that Robert Palk, Eſq; is appointed Governor in his room. Mrs. Vanſittart and her Children are arrived in the Plaſſey. The Britiſh King, Pigou, and Pitt, Jackſon, from London, are both arrived in the Eaſt-Indies.

By ſome private Accounts received from the Eaſt-Indies we hear, that after the Nabob had taken the Engliſh Priſoners to Patna, he put them into a Dungeon, and ordered two of them to be brought out, and put to Death in the moſt cruel Manner; which coming to the Knowledge of the reſt, they reſolved to defend themſelves to the laſt Extremity; on which the Nabob had the Place ſet fire to, and they were all ſuffocated.

Sentence of a General Court-Martial, held at the Horſe-Guards, on Saturday the 14th, and continued by ſeveral Adjournments to Wedneſday the 18th of April, 1764, for the Trial of the Hon. Major-General ROBERT MONCKTON, late Commander in Chief of his Majeſty's Forces at the Reduction of the Iſland of Martinico, on a Complaint preferred againſt him by Collin Campbell, Eſq; heretofore Major Commandant of the 100dth Regiment of Foot.

"The Court is of Opinion, that the Charge and Complaint of Collin Campbell, Eſq; againſt the Major-General ROBERT MONCKTON, is altogether unſupported by Evidence, and in ſome Points expreſsly contradicted by the Complainant's own Witneſſes, and doth therefore moſt honourably acquit the ſaid Major General MONCKTON of the ſame, and every part thereof; and the Court is farther of Opinion, that the ſaid Charge and Complaint is groundleſs, malicious, and ſcandalous in the higheſt Degree, and tending not only to injure the ſaid Major-General MONCKTON in his Character, but to hurt the Service in general, as it muſt greatly affect every Officer who may have the Honour of commanding a Body of his Majeſty's Troops, when he reflects that his Character and Reputation are liable to be thus publickly attacked, by a Perſon who has been diſmiſſed his Majeſty's Service with Ignominy.

"It is likewiſe the Opinion of this Court, that the Complainant, Collin Campbell, Eſq; has by many Falſities, impoſed upon his Majeſty's Secretary at War, in order to obtain a Court-Martial."

Major General MONCKTON, who ſo bravely diſtinguiſhed himſelf at the taking of Martinico, it is ſaid, will ſoon be created a Knight of the Bath, and a Lieutenant-General.

NEW-YORK, July 2.

Extract of a Letter from the Little Falls, dated June 18.

"On Saturday laſt 18 Companies of the Militia, amounting to about 1300 Men, were reviewed at Mr. Brant's, about a Mile above Fort Henrick, by Sir William Johnſon, who, after the Review, entertained them with a large Ox, and a Number of [illegible] whole, and gave them a Barrel of Rum to drink his Majeſty's Health. There were a Number of Indians preſent, amongſt whom were ſome of the Senecas; who, on their Return home, will tell their People, that the Engliſh are coming in vaſt Bodies towards the Frontiers; this will undoubtedly have a good Effect, in engaging them to keep firm and ſteady to their late Convention with Sir William, fearing that theſe People ſhould march againſt them in caſe of a Revolt. Yeſterday Evening Sir William ſet out for Niagara, accompanied by his Son-in-Law Mr. Guy Johnſon, and John Duncan, Eſq; of Schenectady, with 30 of the Chiefs and moſt noted Warriors of the lower Caſtles of the Mohawks, who inſiſted on accompanying Sir William's Perſon in particular in his Voyage. They ſang the War Songs, and danced, taking Sir William by the Hand with the moſt convincing Proofs of their Attachment."

Among the Bills paſſed laſt Seſſion of Parliament, are the following, viz.

A Bill to allow the Export of Rice from Georgia and South-Carolina to the American Colonies, on paying the ſame Duty as in England.

A Bill to encourage the Whale Fiſhery in the Gulph and River of St. Lawrence, and on the Coaſt of the American Colonies.

A Bill to prevent Paper Bills of Credit hereafter to be iſſued, from being declared to be a legal Tender of Payment in the American Colonies.

A Bill to grant a Bounty on the Import of Hemp and undreſt Flax from the American Colonies.

A Bill for granting certain Duties on Goods in the Britiſh Colonies, for the Support of Government.

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.

By Captain Claxton, from Turks Iſland, we are informed, that on the Firſt Day of June a French 74 Gun Ship, with a Snow, Sloop and Xebeque, came there from Cape François; turned off our People (about 200) that were making Salt, plundered and burnt their Cabbins, and carried them, with the Engliſh Veſſels (about 9 Sail) to the Cape, where they were kept one Night, and then ordered to go where they pleaſed, only not to return to Turks Iſland; that the French brought a Number of People with them, among which ſome Tradeſmen, ſaid to be deſigned to build a Fort; and that they had erected a Light-houſe there.—One of the Veſſels, we hear, went immediately to Jamaica, to inform the Admiral of what had happened.—Our Veſſels, as well as the People on the Iſland, were robbed of ſundry Things by the French.

SCHEME of a LOTTERY,

For the Uſe of Talbot County School.

THERE being a Neceſſity for making conſiderable Repairs on the Buildings of this School, and alſo ſome Addition thereto for the Maſter's Conveniency, and the Funds appropriated to it's Uſe being already charged with a heavy Debt: The Viſitors, unprovided with any other Means, take Leave to propoſe the Method of Lottery, to raiſe the Sum of Three Hundred and Sixty Pounds, for anſwering the Purpoſe abovementioned.

This School, thro' the Abilities and extraordinary Aſſiduity of the preſent Maſter, has for many Years, even under great Diſadvantages, been look'd upon as perhaps the beſt and moſt frequented in the Province: And ſhould this Scheme ſucceed, and the Buildings be render'd more commodious, by having the School-Room enlarged, and the upper Chambers well fitted for the Reception of Boarders, it might ſoon become ſtill more extenſively uſeful than it has hitherto been.

INSTRUCTION, or right Education, is univerſally confeſſed to be one of the greateſt Advantages in Life. It is the beſt and trueſt Improvement of our rational Faculties; and thoſe uſeful Arts and Sciences, by which the Condition of Mankind has been rendered more happy and commodious, are, in a great Meaſure, owing to it. It purges off the Droſs of Slavery and Superſtition, and bears a friendly Aſpect on Liberty, and the ſocial Intereſts of Mankind.

SOLLICITOUS to ſecure this noble Advantage, and actuated, entirely, by Sentiments of Tenderneſs and Regard for the riſing Generation, the Viſitors flatter themſelves that every Lover of his Country, and Friend of Mankind, will warmly promote a Lottery ſo laudable in it's Intention, and countenance, with his Favour and Indulgence, This NURSERY of SCHOOL-LEARNING.
